Case Study 1: Student Academic Dashboard

Brief explanation of website development

The Student Academic Dashboard presents important student information in one place, including student details, semester results, attendance, subject information, examination schedules and announcements. HTML creates the page structure, while CSS styles the sidebar, cards, tables, progress bars, spacing, colours and layout. Navigation links help users move between sections. The marks and statistics shown are sample data.

Technologies: HTML for structure and CSS for styling/layout.

Case Study 2: TaskFlow Project Management Dashboard

Brief explanation of website development

TaskFlow helps users organise projects, tasks and team responsibilities. The dashboard displays project summaries, task counts, progress indicators and project cards. A Kanban-style task board separates work into To Do, In Progress and Completed columns. HTML provides the structure, and CSS Flexbox/Grid arrange the sidebar, cards, task columns and team-member section. The screenshots show the dashboard, projects, task board and team members.

Technologies: HTML for structure and CSS for styling/layout.

Case Study 3: NutriFresh Healthy Food & Nutrition Website

Brief explanation of website development

NutriFresh shares healthy food ideas in a clear, attractive layout. It includes a home section, food categories, recipe cards with ingredients and estimated calories, a daily meal plan and healthy eating tips. HTML organises the content into sections and cards, while CSS creates the green theme, navigation bar, image sizing, buttons, spacing and page layout. The navigation links guide visitors to the relevant sections. Nutrition details shown are illustrative.

Technologies: HTML for structure and CSS for styling/layout.
